"The Successful Experiment"
Class Of '58

Because we are the first students in Massachusetts to spend our entire four years at a regional high school, we have given our yearbook a theme that we think is significant of this. We chose "The Successful Experiment" because we feel that our class has proven the success of the idea of a regional school.

In 1949, representatives from five towns met and decided to take the step that has come to mean so much to all of us. Holden, Princeton, Paxton, Rutland, and Sterling, with a great deal of courage and originality, decided to introduce an entirely new educational system. Thus, Wachusett Regional High School was born.

No one knew what the outcome of this daring plan would be. Would the students from the different towns get to know and like one another, or would they stay in their own groups? Would the competition between the five towns be too great? Today, because of the caliber of the education we have received and the number and depth of friendships we have formed, we feel that the experiment was more than successful.

Therefore, our class, the Class of 1958, is very proud to be a part of "The Successful Experiment."

Dedication

As we approached our final year at Wachusett, we were apprehensive, fearing that we faced disappointment. For three years our pride and loyalty for our new school had been steadily growing, but now we feared that our progress, and the progress of the whole school, would be halted by the uncertainty and indecision that could be caused by the change in administration that lay ahead.

However, our misgivings and concern proved to be groundless for we soon saw that the dignified, unruffled exterior, the open-minded, willing approach to new ideas; the ability to cope with old and new problems, and the experience and wisdom of our new principal were more than sufficient for the difficult task facing him.

He has shown himself to be both a close friend, and a helpful counselor throughout the short year that we have known him. Therefore, as an indication of our pride in him and of our gratitude for the capable job he is doing, we dedicate this year book to Mr. Neal T. Skillings.

RALPH HILDING ANDERSON JR.

"Nobody would suppose it, but I am naturally bashful."

"Sals" happy-go-lucky ways have won him many friends, and should do so in the future. If you want anything done go to "Sals". He is always ready to lend a helping hand. He not only has a way with people, but is also good at handling animals. We wish him the best of everything in the future.

Future Farmers of America 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Cabinet 4.

SHIRLEY IRENE ARLIN

"Who can be wise, amazed, temperate and furious, loyal, and neutral in a moment?"

Shirl's bubbling personality is well known to all of us. She's just full of that zest for life. Always cheerful, generous, and interested in everything, she makes a wonderful companion. Her acting ability is a great asset to our class. We wish her the best of luck in a teaching career.

JEAN ALICE BACKSTROM

"A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!"

Jean's favorite pastime is reading books on animals and riding horses. She is a pleasant girl with a quiet friendly manner and we wish her the best of luck in the future.

Honor Roll 1; Senior Play 4; Future Homemakers of America 4.

STEWART OTIS BAILEY

"A little nonsense now and then, is relished by the best of men."

Stew is a carefree and fun-loving senior. His wit and friendliness have won him a score of friends during these four short years. With a twinkling bit of devil in his eyes and a cheery laugh, he makes lasting friends.

ROBERT WILLIAM BARR JR.

"Reason is not measured by size or by height, but by principle."

Bob is small of stature and yet is one of the biggest assets to the Senior Class. He's of invaluable assistance on the gridiron and handles his assignments as only Bob Barr could. In his sophomore and junior years, Bob was manager of the baseball team and undoubtedly helped the "Mountaineers" to a proud record. We needn't fear for the wildlife in the forests much longer for Bob intends to go into wildlife management. He will certainly make an important place for himself there.

Baseball Manager 2, 3; Football 3, 4; Gym Leader Corps 2, 3, 4; Intramural Club 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4; Varsity Club 3, 4.

ROBERT BRUCE BAXTER

"To live long, it is necessary to live slowly."

Tall, dark, and handsome—that's Bob Baxter. He's the kind of person that every class needs. Bob's helpful and yet he's often so quiet that you don't realize he's around. Mountain climbing seems to be his most interesting hobby, and then boating and skating. Bob intends to go to a junior college and later on become a pilot in the Navy. Lots of luck, Bob.

Intramural Football 3, 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

CHARLES FRANCIS BELANGER

"Silence is more eloquent than words."

Chuck is a person who would be an asset to any class. He's so quiet that you never know he's around, but he's always there when you need him. His ability to solve math problems is astounding. Aviation and weather stand out as the most important of his many hobbies. Chuck intends to go to a technical college, and we all know he will succeed at anything he attempts in the field of science.

KATHLEEN ANN BELLROSE

"Her ways are those of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace."

Kathy is the pert little miss who is everyone's friend. She has been a great asset to the majorette squad and a very reliable member of the class. She enjoys sports and likes to dance. The State Mutual Life Assurance Company will surely welcome her.

Intramural Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Majorettes 3, 4; Monitor 3; Pep Squad 2; Senior Play 4; Senior Prom Committee 4.

LINDA JANE BENSON

"There is nothing in the world so cantagious as laughter."

"Benny", witty and vivacious, makes her own fun wherever she goes. One of Linda's hobbies is her great love of horses. We know whatever paths Linda's future leads her to, there will be smiles along the way. Linda's patients will recuperate fast under her care.

Biology Club (secretary) 4; Intramural Club 1, 2, 4; Pep Squad 2; Senior Play Production 4; Ski Club 3, 4.

CAROLYN JEAN BERGLUND

"A little work, a little play, a cheery word, a bright good day."

If there's anyone who is willing to do her part in work or play, it's Carolyn. No matter what the task, it is never considered overpowering to her. Because of this she is bound to succeed in the future. State Mutual Life Assurance Company will be gaining an excellent worker when she joins their staff next year.

Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Chorus 1, 2, 3, 4; Echo Staff 4 (Art Editor); Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Club 1, 2; Junior Prom Committee 3; Latin Club 1, 2; Pep Squad 2; Senior Play 4; Senior Prom Committee 4; Ski Club 4; Willard Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

JOYCE MARIE BLAIR

"Quiet by nature, yet fun-loving, too."

Although Joycie is one of the quieter members of the class, her many friends know her better. We find her always willing to do anything for others. Her cheerfulness will carry her through life with success and happiness. Joyce plans to go to commercial college in the future.

Pep Squad 2; Senior Prom Committee 4.

HELEN MAE BLONDIN

"A cheerful disposition is a gift of the gods."

Helen's ready smile and warm spirit are always available and somehow they always seem to cheer one up. Her congeniality and willingness to help others make her a wonderful pal. And oh! Those big blue eyes! We know that Helen will be a success at whatever she chooses to do.

ROGER WALTER BOHN

"What care I when I can rest, kill time and take life at its best."

Roger has sometimes been referred to as the "Mad Electrician" for his home is full of electrical gadgets that are hooked up to a central switchboard in his room. We will all remember the excellent job he has done as bass drummer in the Band. Roger plans to attend a four year technical school and later work in an engineering firm. We wish him the best of luck, knowing that if past performances foretell the future, Roger will succeed at all that he does.

Audio Visual 4; Band 3, 4; French Club 2; Junior Band 3; Intramural Football 4; Photography Club 3, 4; Senior Play 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

ANN REGINA BLANCHE BOISVERT

"Our chief want in life is somebody who shall make us do what we can."

Ann is truly a believer in the saying, "Quietness is a virtue," for seldom is she talkative. Her industry and efficiency have been evident to all and her prospects for success are equally evident.

Chorus 1, 2; Biology Club 2, 3; Future Homemakers of America 4.

CAROL STELLA BOISVERT

"How happy the life unembarrassed by the cares of business!"

"Lucky" is her middle name. Everything she attempts to do seems to come out for her benefit. Friends she has many; worries she has few. We wish her more luck if that's possible.

Senior Play Committee 4.

MARILYN MARIE BOISVERT

"It is a friendly heart that has plenty of friends."

Marilyn's cheerful and friendly disposition has aided her in gaining many friends. She was a good sport when it came time to give oral talks in English, receiving a great sigh of relief from her classmates. Marilyn's enthusiasm and industrious ways are noticed by everyone.

Echo Staff 2; Intramural Club 2, 3, 4; Pep Squad 2.

BEVERELY ANN BOULANGER

"True to her word, her work, and her friends."

She is that charming girl with pretty, dark hair who always claims, "I like boys from my own town best!" Bev gives the appearance of being quiet, but just ask her friends about this! She plans a commercial career.

Future Homemakers of America 4; Faculty Manager's typist 4; Guidance Office helper 4; Junior Prom Committee 3; Pep Squad 2; Senior Prom Committee 4.

GERALD ERNEST BORDEUR

"Athletics, his hobby; good nature, his guide."

Gerry is one of those people you just can't help liking. A carefree, happy-go-lucky attitude often conceals his diligence and assiduousness in any field to which he applies himself. His infectious and mischievous sense of humor topped by a keen mind and sincerity make him a person well worth knowing.

Basketball 3, 4; Baseball 2. 3, 4; Football 2, 3, 4; Gym Leader Corps 2, 3, 4; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4; Varsity Club 3, 4 (Treasurer 3, 4).

JOHN ALDEN BROWN

"Be gone dull care! Thou and I shall never agree."

Who is the mischievous lad with the red hair? That's Johnny, always into something, always making noise. With friendliness in his heart, mischief in his eye, and sincerity in his soul, he will surely be a success in whatever field he chooses.

HAROLD FRANK BURNHAM

"Beware the fury of a patient man."

Looking for Hal? He's usually in the darkroom, developing photographs. The tall, blond, good-looking lad is always willing to give a helping hand to his classmates. His warm, friendly manner is sure to lead him to a great success.

JOAN BUTLER

"Science is as deep as eternity; Speech, as shallow as time."

Joanie is one of the honor students in our class. A fondness for acting is only one of her numerous interests. Her winning smile is always waiting for everyone. Even when the day seems darkest you can find light in her heart.

Monitor 3, 4; National Thespian Society 3, 4, (Secretary 4); Spanish Club 3, 4; Willard Club 3, 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

JOYCE IRENE BUXTON

"Serious and well behaved, never any trouble gave."

Joyce, serious but fun-loving at heart. She has many talents, one of which is skill in art. Her abilities and willingness to work are sure to bring her great rewards in whatever she does. She plans to enter college in the fall.

WILLIAM WALTON BURROWS JR.

"School? I suppose it is a necessary evil."

Bill is our outdoor fellow. He loves to hunt, camp, ski, and swim. He feels that school could be eliminated without too much trouble and tears. Although he appears to be lazy, his friends know better. On the dance floor he's hard to beat with his fancy steps. He plans eventually to become a forest ranger after his duty to the government is completed in the Air Force.

Intramural Football Champion 2; Ski Club 4; Track Team 1.

DIANE BYRON

"In quietness lies hidden friendship."

Diane brings a quiet, friendly atmosphere wherever she goes. Her pleasant and cooperative ways have won her many friends. To some, Diane probably seems quiet and shy, but to those who know her, she is a sincere, lively friend. We all wish her success in her college career.

French Club 3; Girls' Intramural Club 2, 3; Yearbook Staff 4.

JEAN ANGELA CALCIA

"She is witty, gay, and clever, yet scorns not endeavor."

Witty, vivacious, ingenious and intelligent are the four traits which best describe Jeanie. Dependability and hard work make her a friend to all who know her. Always busy, always bright, she carries the task of Editor-in-chief of the Wachusett Echo. We know she'll be a hard worker in the business world.

Echo Staff (editor) 4; Honor Roll 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Club 3; Junior Play Committee 3; Monitor 3; National Honor Society 3, 4; Senior Play 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

ROBERT HENRY CAREY

"The deepest rivers flow with the least sound."

Bob, so tall and so quiet, is one of those mysterious "Aggie" boys. The shy type who has little to say, he nevertheless possesses much wit. The future holds in store for him an occupation in dairy farming.

Future Farmers of America 1, 2, 3, 4.

BERNARD OSCAR CARLSON

"A little mischief now and then is relished by the best of men."

Bernie, with his jocular manner and friendly ways may be seen many times driving his car or crawling under it to fix something that's broken, for he is a car enthusiast. Bernie will probably find something to do with cars in the Service, which he plans to enter after graduation.

JOHN GARY CARLSON

"Speech be better than silence."

"Of course it's a Ford! Is there any other kind?" This is Jack's best known expression and it has become a trademark with him. Besides talking about cars, Jack's many hobbies include hunting and fishing. He has become quite an authority on hunting—one good look at his rifle collection proves it. He wants to teach high school and we all wish him the best of luck, knowing that he will never fail in anything that he sets his mind to.

Camera Club 4; Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Intramural Volleyball 2; Monitor 3; Junior Prom Committee 3; Senior Prom Committee 4.

JOHN WILLIAM CARLSON

"All do so like saints appear we know not who's the devil here."

Jack can brighten up any group with his wit and personality. One of his weaknesses is women, and one of his interests is drawing. He has proven both to us in the past four years. We know he will succeed in college and the service.

Intramural Football 3; Intramural Softball 2; Intramural Volleyball 3, 4; Monitor 3; Track 3, 4.

PAUL HOWARD CHRISTENSEN

"The quiet ones are those who gain the most."

A hard worker, "Chris" is interested in all kinds of sports. He has enlivened many a class with his quick wit, and his sincerity is a quality which will insure success and happiness for him. The Navy will be receiving a valuable member, when he joins this summer.

Intramural Basketball 3, 4.

DIANE MARY COOKE

"There's none whose style is so neat, whose smile is so sweet."

Cookie is best known for her love of fun. Her warm personality and radiant smile have won her many friends. Cookie's interest and ability in sports have been a great asset to our girl's basketball team. Her inexhaustible supply of energy for cheering the team on to victory is always evident at sports events. Diane's winning ways are a sure road to success and we all wish her the best of luck in her secretarial work.

RICHARD COOPER

"Silence is golden."

"Skeezix" is a quiet but industrious student. His ability to tinker with cars should help him in his plans to attend a technical school.

MAUREEN GAIL COVE

"A jolly girl, a live-wire, the kind of which you never tire."

Reeney is gay, exciting, enthusiastic, and always has ideas for good times. Her cheerful personality has won her many friends. She'll have her patients in two kinds of stitches when she follows through her plans for a nursing career.

DIANN COYLE

"To know her is a lasting treat."

Diann has not been here for long, but everyone knows her. Her ability to make friends has made her one of the most popular seniors. We all know what an excellent cheerleader she is. Diann hopes to go to William and Mary, and major in math. If her success here in such a short time is any example of her ability, we're sure she will be an outstanding student.

PEARL ELSIE CRAWFORD

"In quietness lies hidden friendship."

Although Pearl isn't one to always talk, she doesn't overlook the fact that friends are an asset. She is a lasting friend with a personality to fit her name. Pearl enjoys collecting popular records. Her plans for the future are to become a secretary.

JUDITH JOY CROSBY

"The happiness of the heart causeth a fair color in the face."

Small, blonde, fun-loving—these words describe "Blondie." Everyone knows her because wherever she goes she leaves her mark. Her pleasing smile and light, airy conversation, combined with her magnetic personality will assure her great success as a dental assistant.

Intramural Club 2, 3, 4; Monitor 4.

WILLIAM JAMES CUNNINGHAM

"A good player unequalled, a sportsman complete;
a good one to follow, a hard one to beat."

The name Jim Cunningham is familiar to everyone, for Jim is a natural leader. For two consecutive years his classmates have shown their approval of his methods by electing him president of the class. In the fall Jim can always be found on the football field with the team. In the field of track, Jimmy became interested in the discus throw, and he soon developed the form and ability of a mature athlete.

RICHARD EARL DALTON

"No one knows what he can do till he tries."

"Digger" is one of our many classmates who entered Wachusett after its initial year, but he has the distinction of coming from Alabama. Quiet and unassuming, a smile and a word of greeting will invariably be returned by his shy, friendly smile. Success at the General Electric Apprentice Course is assured him, for loyalty and perseverance are most welcome traits.

Selma Junior High School (Selma, Alabama) 1; Band 1, 2; Christmas Play 3; Senior Play 4; Spanish Club 3.

RICHARD JOHN DARBY

"Building castles in the air."

Dick's an unassuming fellow, but a hard working, loyal friend when you get to know him. He favors the field of aviation, whether it be planes in model or actual size.

PETER DAVIS

"Dimples in his chin, devil within."

Pete is that good-looking fellow who seems rather shy, but he can be full of mischief when he is in the mood. The outdoor type, Pete enjoys swimming and boating. May great success be his at college.

Holden High School 1; Intramural Club 3; Junior Cabinet 3.

ROBERT ALVIN DAVIS

"Sighed and looked, and sighed again."

Who's that cute redhead? That's our boy, Bob. His quiet wit and lively personality have made him well liked. We know that in the Marine Corps, college, and whatever profession he decides upon his personality and willingness to help will be two of his greatest assets.

French Club 4; Intramural Club 2, 3, 4; Intramural Basketball 2, 3; Intramural Football 2, 3, 4; Intramural Volleyball 3; Intramural Softball 2; Junior Cabinet 3; Senior Cabinet 4; Senior Prom Committee 4; Track 3.

JUDITH ANN DESROSIERS

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

A giggle resounding through the hall and everyone knows Judy's around. With her sense of humor and good nature, she has cheered many of us in the past four years. She has a keen interest in horses and is quite an artist. Her weakness, missing school busses; her excuse, forgetting her lunch.

Pep Squad 2; Senior Play 4; Yearbook Staff 4.

ROBERT PAUL DONAHUE

"He may not convince you, but he argues on."

Musical, full of fun, Bob is one of our Senior comedians. None of us will forget the excellent job he has done as band leader. He plans to enter college next fall and major in business administration. A diligent worker, his future will certainly be bright.

BERNARD DOUGLAS

"All musical people seem to be happy."

There's Bernie, tapping the floor with his shining slippers. Everyone knows Bernie for his ability to dance. Along with his happy-go-lucky ways, Bernie will be remembered for his many performances on the stage. Always going around with a friendly word, he will be greatly missed next year.

Band 2, 3, 4; Chorus 2, 4; Glee Club 3, 4; Intramural Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

LESLIE ALAN DOWNER

"Worry and I have never met."

Les likes sports, particularly hunting. Besides his activity on the track team, he enjoys eating, but keeps his figure. We all wish for him good fortune as a future farmer.

Future Farmers of America 2, 3, 4; Library Club 3; Track 3, 4.

SANDRA JUNE ERICKSON

"A maiden friendly and self-passessed, attractive, poised and trimly dressed."

Quiet, usually, she is a true friend. Her warm personality and winning smile will see her easily over life's long road.

Future Homemakers of America 4; Library Club 2; Majorettes 4; Pep Squad 2.

PATRICIA ANN FISKE

"Music in her heart and mischief in her eye."

Although Pat appears quiet on the surface, her gaiety and amiability are familiar to those who know her well. Her sweet smile and bubbling personality are loved by all. Pat's future includes plans for a secretarial career and she is sure to achieve her goal.

Honor Roll 1, 2, 3; National Honor Society 3, 4.

PAUL JOSEPH FLANAGAN

"He's a regular guy, why say more?"

Paul is one of the Sterlingites. Sincere, yet fun-loving, he has won countless friends from all the towns. There are many fine qualities beneath that lovely blush. Hard work and love for sports round him out to be one swell person.

Basketball 2, 3, 4; French Club 4; Intramural Basketball 3, 4; Intramural Club 2, 3, 4; Intramural Football 1; Romanum Forum 2.

DAVID ERIC FLINK

"Good nature brings many friends."

Dave is another of '58's blushers. Just one word is enough to turn him scarlet. A friend to many, especially the girls, he's known for his cheerful ways. We are sure his lightheartedness will safely take him through a career in the service.

Intramural Club 2, 3, 4.

DIANNE ELIZABETH FORRESTER

"She seems quiet, but you'd be surprised."

An enigmatic, thoughtful look may mislead you to believe that Dianne is the quiet type. But wait a minute and she's bright, cheery, and energetic again. With a mischievous gleam in her eye and match-making for a hobby, she is sure to succeed in life.

DEAN RANDALL GRAINGER

"A gentleman makes no noise."

Randy is a good student, yet with his quiet manner you seldom know he's around. He's aspiring to be a doctor, and with these tools, we are sure he'll be a fine one.

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3; Intramural Football 1, 2, 3, 4.

JOHN MARTIN GRANDIN

"Men are judged by their actions but not by their words."

Johnny may seem quiet and unassuming, but beneath his charming exterior lies a little mischief. He is good natured and has the ability to get along with others. An ambitious guy with a pleasant personality, John will surely be a success in college.

BARBARA GREEN

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

Her pleasant and airy conversation has made her well-liked by everyone. Her flirtatious personality and her winning smile are just two of Barbs' assets. This attentive, vivacious, red-headed cheerleader has certainly kept up the school spirit. She also enjoys many sports outside of school, such as swimming, skating, and skiing. We are sure these four years will bud out into a bright future as a secretary for Barbs.

Cheerleader 4; Girls' Intramural Club 3, 4; Spanish Club 3.

ELIZABETH ANN GUSTAFSON

"A cheerful disposition is a gift of the gods."

Liz will always be recognized for her ready smile when spoken to and her ready blush when teased. Her love of a rip-roaring "discussion" in class will long be remembered by her classmates.

HOWARD ARTHUR HAMMOND

"Quiet paths are mine."

Howie is not one of our loud Seniors. However, those who know him best recognize a fun-loving nature and sense of humor. Among his many interests are raising pigeons and tinkering with cars. The future is sure to hold happiness for a boy of his qualities.

JOSEPHINE VIOLA HANEY

"She lives in peace with all mankind."

I heard a laugh, I saw a crow, who did I find? No one but Jo. Friendship seems to be her companion, as she is everyone's pal. Making friends is easy, but keeping them is a virtue. Her pleasing nature and jovial smile are assets everyone desires.

LILLIAN GERTRUDE HASKINS

"Friendship! mysterious cement of the soul! Sweetener of life! and solder of society!"

Lilly, who is friendly and amiable, makes the sad heart gay by a friendly smile and a few kind words. What a friendly person like her can do for a depressed fellow student is a wonder. We hope luck will be on her side in whatever she does.

CHARLES WARD HENSON

"Nothing succeeds like success."

How can one brain hold so much knowledge? Ward is truly one of our best scholars. Well-known for his sense of humor and sincerity, he has become a prominent figure in Wachusett social life. His athletic ability has made him an outstanding center on our football team. He plans to enter college next year followed by graduate school, in preparation for a career in scientific research or teaching college mathematics.

CHARLES ALFRED HINTLIAN

"It is better to be seen and not heard."

Fred is one of the quieter members of the class of '58. He's also the one who loves to annoy his teachers by falling asleep during a lecture. As an earnest, easy-going fellow, he will succeed in whatever coreer he chooses, providing he can keep awake at college.

BARBARA JOAN HODGMAN

"Sophistication and charm are seldom found together but we have found an exception."

Want some ideas on having fun or getting in trouble? Ask Bobbie. Underneath her somewhat quiet exterior, lies a mischievous heart. Her flirtatious manner and charm with the boys will lead her to have many dates in her college life.

Chorus 1; Junior Prom Committee 3; Monitor 3, 4; Pep Squad 2; Senior Play 4.

DONALD WILLIAM HOLMES

"All are presumed good, till they are found in a fault."

Don is a blond with sharp blue eyes that sparkle. He is quiet and carefree but always has a "hello" for everyone. If you ever need any data on cars, Don is the one to see. His interests are electronics and mechanics, and we know he will succeed in a technical school and the Air Force.

JAMES FRANCIS HOLMES

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men."

Jim is one of the boys who is quiet inside school. However, just get him away from the classroom and he really comes to life. He's a riot at a party. This future Navy man has quite a flare for cars.

Intramural Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Intramural Football 1, 2, 3, 4.

ROBERT JOHN HOLOPAINEN

"Seldom seen; seldom heard."

Bob, distinguished by his quietness, nevertheless is friendly, polite and humorous. The Air Force is included in his plans for the future, but no matter what he does, we know he will succeed.

RICHARD CLARE HOLT

"The farmers are founders of civilization and prosperity."

Dick, a farmer through and through, is well-known for his sense of humor. With his ambition and well-conceived plans, we feel sure that he will be a successful agriculturist.

Future Farmers of America 1, 2, 3, 4.

LEE HOOPER

"I do not do what I ought to do, what I ought not to do, I do."

Who did that? Of course, it's Lee. We can always depend on Lee for some mischief. But the tall, lanky, brown-eyed fellow is not always devilish, he has his serious moments. The best of luck to you, Lee, in the Air Force.

Gym Leader Corps 1, 2, 3, 4.

JEROLD PETER HUBBARD

"He jests at scars that never felt a wound."

Jerold is always there when you need him. A more dependable and reliable person you can't find anywhere. This is a quality which everyone who knows him admires.

French Club 2, 4; Spanish 3, 4; Honor Roll 3; Senior Play (Cast) 4.

BARBARA LOUISE HUTCHINS

"A deal of devilment lurks behind those quiet eyes."

Hutch's easy-going manner and her persuasive way go hand-in-hand. She has a keen sense of humor which keeps her ever alert to utter a witty remark at the precise moment. We can't help feeling that her future will be a bright one.

KENNETH HORACE JOHNSTONE JR.

"In arguing, too, this person showed his skill, for even though vanquished he would argue still."

Beneath that stern exterior lies a many-faceted personality. In contrast to Ken's languid manner is his calm, realistic approach and active mind, which contributes to his argumentative faculties. Combine with the aforesaid a bit of devilment and an ironical sense of humor, and the character which has given many a teacher a gray hair is revealed.

NORMAN LEE JONES JR.

"I am sure care is an enemy to life."

Jovial, carefree, full of fun—that's Jonesy! He's always there with a smile and the latest joke. His sense of humor, his loyalty to friends, and his ability to work hard and succeed, we feel will make him a success in whatever he chooses to do.

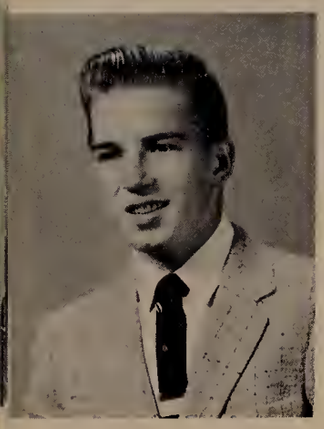
Future Farmers of America 1, 2, 3, 4.

WILLIAM FRANK KAMINSKI

"Unmoved by the wiles of women."

Bill cares not for the whimperings and wiles of the opposite sex. He enjoys hunting and fishing and is an asset to the football squad. We wish him a successful future.

Football 3, 4.



JOSEPH FRANCIS KAPULKA JR.

"Fond of sports and pleasures too."

Joe uses his bashful technique to win his dates with girls. He is "one of the boys" endowed with abilities to play football, basketball, and baseball. With his shy, friendly smile and extraordinary athletic abilities, he is an asset to our class.

SANDRA LEE NORQUIST

"For she was the quiet kind whose noture never vories."

It is part of Sandy's nature to be quiet and undemonstrative. She is rarely the first to speak on a subject but comes up with the right answer at the right time. Sandy loves to dance which is easily detected by a look at her flashy dance steps. She's sure to excel in anything she attempts throughout the years.

PHYLLIS ANN NORTHRUP

"Becouse to lough is proper to me."

Sweet, fun-loving, and hospitable is Phil. Always ready to lend a helping hand to anyone, and always ready to laugh, she is a person well worth knowing. Success will surely find her.

Future Homemakers of America 4 (Treasurer 4); Senior Play Committee 4.

CAROL MARIE NORTON

"A bit of devilment lies beneoth her mild exterior."

You first receive the impression that Carol is a quiet, suave, and efficient business woman-to-be. This is a perfectly true analysis with but one exception. When Carol is with Judy, they lose themselves in animated conversation about such things as the "stock market" and "fishing", as best friends do. With her competence and capability, Carol is assured a successful career as a secretary or stenographer.

SALLY ANN ROSE

"Her air is not more sunny than her heart."

Anyone mention music? Sal is the expert on that. Perhaps the most talented member of the class, our Sally spends a great deal of her time practicing her piano and organ. Music's not her only ability; she also shines in art. Sally hopes to major in organ and choir directing at Westminster Choir College. It will not surprise us to find that Sally has attained her goal in the future years.

"It is better to be small and shine, than to be great and cast a shadow."

What was that little streak of lightening taking the basketball from between your legs? Why, of course, that was Helen. Helen is good in just about all sports, including horseback riding, swimming and badminton. She is a trustworthy friend, and there is always a laugh when she is around. Helen plans to become a secretary.

Future Homemakers of America 4; Intramural Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

JANE ELIZABETH SJOMAN

"I love tranquil solitude and such society as is quiet, wise, and good."

Jane, with her pleasant smiles and witty ways, will have nothing but success and happiness. She always is willing to help those who don't find school work as easy as she. We know that she will be as helpful and generous after she leaves Wachusett.

ARTHUR JOHN SPENCER

"Leisure is the mother of philosophy."

John, the tall boy with the western saunter, and quiet mien, is always willing to work hard to avoid work. An unhurried, uncamplicated attitude taward life and its problems seems to be his philosophy. He will certainly have a successful career in the Navy.

DAVID CHESTER STEWART

"A man of few words but many thoughts."

Dave is the type of person you like to have as a friend. He enjoys participating in practically all sports and he excels in all that he does. His popularity among the students was shown when he was elected as the vice president of the Senior Class. A business administratian course at the University of Massachusetts appears to be his next undertaking and we all wish him the best of luck.

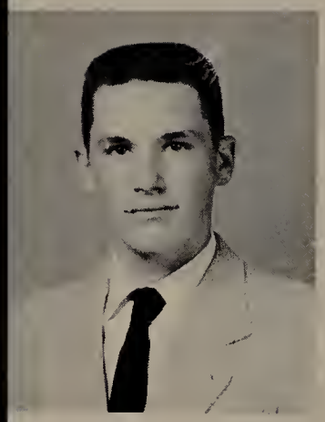
BRIAN NEWELL WHITE

"Never do today what can be put off until tomorrow."

Although unobtrusive and unassuming, Brian seems to have a knack for getting into trouble without even trying. Perhaps it's because people, especially teachers, can't miss that dusty-red hair. The generally good judgment and self-control which governs his character will undoubtedly guide him through his career in the Navy.

Senior Prom Committee 4.



JACK TAYLOR WILBER JR.

"A good sport in every sense of the word."

Jack is quiet but mischievous. He's a good worker, and has been a big help to us in our years together. His second love is his car; the first, girls.

History of the Class of 1958

The 1950's kept scientists busy. We saw how the results of their experiments—Nautilus, Sputnik, and Vanguard—have become common talk. We, the class of 1958, feel the public has forgotten another experiment—us. We were the guinea pigs for five towns that got together and built a school. The success of this new school, Wachusett Regional High School, greatly depended on how our class managed to come through our four years there.

When you enter high school as freshmen, the accepted thing to do is to have a great deal of awe and reverence for the upperclassmen. Well, you can never say that we were conformists, because we entered Wachusett in September of 1954 completely confident and revoltingly unabashed! Revolting, not from our point of view, of course, but from that of the upperclassmen. I suppose the fact that we were aware that everyone else in the school, including the faculty, was facing the same brand-new situations we were, helped to make us so self-assured. Why, even the seniors that year found themselves in the wrong room, staring at the wrong teacher! Those first few weeks, as we wandered around the corridors, hunting our next class with map clutched in hand, we wondered if we'd ever get the gist of our schedules, find our lockers again, or get lunch.

But, in spite of the fact that we were new at this business of being high school students, we weren't afraid to tackle anything. In our eagerness, I suppose we made innumerable mistakes, but we were a hardy lot and nothing could keep us down. Of course, the fact that we had wisely elected such competent and personable class officers as Bill Lane, president; Lois Ruggles, vice-president; Jean Nordquist, secretary; Dan Trombi, treasurer; greatly increased our success in nearly all of our undertakings.

In this, our first year, we made certain that our class was represented in a majority of the school activities as well as in the athletic department. Our additions to the varsity field hockey team were Joyce Larson, Dottie Mayo, and Carol Majewski. Carol also was an important member of the girls' basketball team. Bruce Kingdon, Hank Hiller, and Ed Manley represented the freshman class on the baseball team.

The first thing we learned upon entering our sophomore year was that to maintain the high standards we had set in our freshman year, we were going to have to work. As freshmen, it had seemed that just existing as a class was enough to insure our success, but we had to admit that working for our success was far more reliable and rewarding.

This year, all our achievements were easily accomplished under the guidance of our class officers: Bill Lane, whom we were fortunate enough to have as our president for a second year, and our other capable officers, Frank Rogers, vice-president; Jean Hamilton, secretary; Dan Trombi, treasurer. Also, Wachusett instituted a student council; our representatives were Dottie Mayo, Lois Ruggles, Jean Nordquist, and Bob Donahue.

Football fans that year saw Bruce Kingdon, Gerry Brodeur, Jim Cunningham, Ronny Schofield, Stewart Bailey, Dick Labossiere, Bob Goretti, Bill Lane, Ward Henson, and Roger Lindfors out on the field fighting for Wachusett. Diane Cooke, Gail Price, Dianne Webster, Carol Majewski, and Joyce Larson lent their talents to the girls' basketball team that year, and Carol, Joyce, and Dianne also played hockey along with Dottie Mayo, and Mary Martelli. That spring six sophomore boys played on the baseball team: Ken Johnstone, Gerry Brodeur, Hank Hiller, Joe Kapulka, Ed Manley, and Bruce Kingdon. Out running for the newly organized track team were Dick Labossiere, Jim Cunningham, and Will Waterhouse.

Before we left school in June, we elected officers for our Junior year. The results showed that Jim Cunningham was to be our new president; Brad Carson, vice-president; Judy Maddocks, secretary; Dan Trombi, treasurer.

As we converged on the Junior corridor that fall, we were proud to be upperclassmen for the first time. Although we still lost our locker keys, forgot assignments and left books at home, we were really Juniors at last. This proved to be a very busy year for us. It seemed that we were always launched on one venture or another. This year we not only continued with the regular school activities, but instituted a very important one of our own—the Junior Play. In May we presented two one-act plays, "Dust of the Road," and "Stolen Identity," for the benefit of our class treasury which was already beginning to bulge. Of course, the biggest event of our Junior year was our prom, "Sea Shadows." Our many talented class members decorated the gym very artistically and imaginatively with an underwater motif with sea horses, netting, balloons, an under-sea castle, and naturally, fish. After all the intense preparations, the night was a very happy one for us.

As usual, we came out in force to join in the activities, and as upperclassmen and old "pros" many of our class members were instrumental in the success of our various teams. Juniors on the football team that fall were Bruce Kingdon, Bill Kaminski, Bob Barr, Ronny Schofield, Jim Cunningham, Ward Henson, Ken Johnstone, Gerry Brodeur, Roger Lindfors, and Ronny Granberg. Out on the court for the basketball team were Dan Trombi, Joe Kapulka, Paul Flanagan, Hank Hiller, and Bruce Kingdon. Cheering for the boys, as they had in our sophomore year, were Sandra Nisi and Judy Maddocks.

The girls' hockey team was sparked by the playing of Catherine Kristoff, Carol Majewski, Joyce Larson, Dottie Mayo, Lois Ruggles, Kathy Simonds, Dianne Forrester, Gail Phillips, Mary Martelli, Elaine Wall, Dianne Webster, and Faith Wheeler. The undefeated girls' basketball team owed most of its fine record to the playing of our Junior members: Joyce Larson, Carol Majewski, Dianne Webster, Dottie Mayo, Elaine Wall, Janice Lundin, Mary Martelli, and Gail Price.

Before we left for our summer vacation that spring, we held elections for next falls Senior Class officers. Sadly we realized that for us, these would be our last elections together. After all the posters had been taken down, and all the stickers thrown away, we found that we had chosen Jim Cunningham to be our President for our last and most important year. To help him, we had elected Dave Stewart, vice-president; Lois Parker, secretary; Dottie Mayo, treasurer.

Another thing that made leaving school that spring rather hard for us was that when we returned in September our school would be minus our friends from West Boylston. It was hard to picture our school without them, because they had become such a necessary part of it.

So, a little saddened perhaps, but full of anticipation, we left for our summer vacation to rest up for that hectic senior year which we would have to face in a few months.

When we were underclassmen, we thought, "Boy, when I'm a senior this school's going to see who's boss. Why I'll make those little freshmen jump, and—." Well, you know what else, but by the time we finally became seniors we had neither the time nor the energy to do anything except try to make it through our last year of high school.

One of the first things we did was to choose Ward Henson and Lois Ruggles as co-editors of our yearbook. The rest of us got in on the act, too, because we wanted to make this the best yearbook ever.

Early in October after the cast and production crew had been chosen, work got underway for one of our biggest events, the Senior Play. Mr. Barker and his stage managers, Paul Morris and Gail Price, set about rehearsing the actors for opening night. Meanwhile, Mr. Bowes was busy with the production crew polishing off the set while Mr. Lindberg, our class advisor, with the help of Jim Cunningham, kept the house front committees busy with the business end of the play. On opening night after the actors had donned their grease paint and taken their places, the house lights dimmed and the curtain opened on our production of "We Shook the Family Tree." Shirley Arlin and Bobby Poole starred in the hilarious comedy about Hildegarde, a high school girl, whose mother arranged for her to attend the prom with "that man of the world, marvelous dancer, and terrific athlete—short pants Freddy." This picture of the trials and tribulations of being a teenager was the most successful of all Senior Plays presented at Wachusett.

Jim Cunningham, Bruce Kingdon, and Roger Lindfors, the football team's three captains led the team and its senior members, Bob Barr, Ward Henson, Bill Lane, Gerry Brodeur, Stewart Bailey, Dick Labossiere, Ronny Schofield, Ken Johnstone, Ronny Granberg, Bill Kaminski. The girls' hockey team, with co-captains Carol Majewski and Dottie Mayo, was undefeated for the second year in a row; senior members were Joyce Larson, Lois Ruggles, Elaine Wall, Dianne Webster, Mary Martelli, Kathy Simonds, Gail Phillips, Judy Gibson, Diann Coyle, and Faith Wheeler.

To add to our frantic schedule, there were two hectic weeks of picture-taking by the inimitable Mr. Bushong for the pages of our year-book. Deadlines, term papers, mid-year exams added to the turmoil of the winter months.

We were also kept busy during these months by supporting our cheerleaders led by Sandra Nisi and seniors Barbara Green, Dottie Mayo, Diane Smith, and Diann Coyle at the games. During the basketball season, the Wachusett five, with Hank Hiller, Joe Kapulka, and Paul Flanagan were led in their hard-fought victories by Captain Bruce Kingdon. Seniors Dottie Mayo, Elaine Wall, Judy Gibson, Linda Benson, Diann Coyle, and Gail Price, led by co-captains Carol Majewski and Joyce Larson, composed the biggest part of the girls' basketball team.

February 21st was the date of our biggest event, the long awaited Senior Prom—"Mid-Winter Moonlight." We danced to the music of Eddie Sham in the gym decorated in a winter motif. Co-chairmen for the prom were Jim Cunningham, Beryl Pearson and Dave Stewart. The chairmen of the committees were Sandra Nisi, Carolyn Berglund, Sandra Sorblom, Pat Wood, Jean Calcia, Lois Parker, Joyce Larson, Carol Majewski, Robert Davis, Bernard Douglas, Jack Wilber, and Joanne Kemp. After we saw the beautiful and tastefully decorated gym, we all agreed that Carolyn Berglund and her decorations committee had something to be proud of.

After this, time flew by faster than ever and we found ourselves in the midst of boning up for finals and making our last hasty preparations for graduation.

On reviewing these exciting and adventurous four years, we are filled with a quiet pride in the work done by us as a class and a determination to continue our success by dealing with life's problems with the same courage, skill, and high-spirits that have made these years so enjoyable.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1958

We, the class of 1958, being of extraordinary intelligence and having the physiques and figures of Mr. and Mrs. Universe, do hereby bequeath this, our last will and testament.

To the "oh boy, we can't wait until they finally graduate" Juniors we bequeath all our tremendous abilities, knowing they'll need them. We also leave them the aches and pains of getting into college and our frequent trips to the guidance office.

To the sophisticated, "We're all grown-up now" Sophomores we bestow nothing because they think they already have everything.

To the exuberant, carefree freshmen we leave the fun and wonderful times we've had in high school.

To the "But they told me 115 was on the third floor" incoming Freshmen we bequeath our handbooks and our well-worn maps of the school.

To our teachers and our coaches we leave our thanks and our gratitude for all the time and patience they had for us.

The football team leaves their games in the mud to children everywhere who like to make mud-pies.

The cross country track team bestows their impressive record on next year's team.

The girl's hockey team leaves "Stanley" to next year's captain.

The boy's basketball team leaves those exciting last minute rallies to next year's girls' team, who probably won't need them.

The cheerleaders leave their worn out voices to next year's lucky squad.

The twirlers leave their ability to do routines to the wrong music to anyone who feels he can't get along without this trait.

The band leaves "Anchors Aweigh" to anyone who hasn't heard it.

Judy Jacques leaves her ability to go steady to Kathy Lundquist who went steady about twenty times before high school.

Liz Gustafson leaves her celebrated writing ability to Betty Steele who needs it to write to Jon.

Richard Cooper leaves his new unopened books to Mike Sawyer who'll see that they stay that way.

Billy Lane leaves his Senior Play shorts to exhibit in the trophy case and his fish to the cafeteria.

Harold Burnham who is always taking pictures leaves his good times in the darkroom to Orville "But I'm afraid of the dark" Sheldon.

Bob Barr bequeaths his great football ability and his love of girls to Dick Kingdon who is just discovering how much fun these things can be.

Kathy Simonds leaves her unique ability for having an answer to everything to Walter Seelye who always has a question.

If Paul Sundstrom were more hard-hearted he would leave his devilish ways to Mike Powers, but way down deep Paul does love the school.

Dianne Forrester leaves her ability to get out of hot water to Sue Anderson who always appears to be drowning in it.

Will Waterhouse bestows his blond hair upon Nancy Coyle who has always wanted her hair to be that color.

Roger Bohn leaves his position in the band and his drums to anyone who can stand the noise.

Dianne Webster bequeaths her athletic abilities to the coaches to distribute in appropriate amounts to needy gym students.

Dean Grainger leaves his place as "One of the gang" to Robin Moule who would just love to be surrounded by all those boys.

Stewart Bailey leaves all his muscles to next year's freshman football squad with Mr. Sell as trustee.

Marilyn Boisvert departs leaving the Senior corridors quiet until Sue Brown gets there.

Sandra Norquist leaves, walking.

Bev Boulanger leaves her arguments in favor of going steady to all the girls in the school who have trouble convincing their boy friends that it is the thing to do.

Bernard Carlson bestows his knack for getting into automobile accidents on Bobby "Who needs an automobile?" Lane.

Judy Crosby bequeaths her convertible to all driver ed students who wish the present cars were more glamorous.

Bob Davis leaves his unbeatable record of going steady and then breaking up with the same girls, to Brian Phillips, who thinks he'll never break up.

David Flink leaves, taking his seat in 117 with him, since he is too tired to get out of it.

Donald "Can I borrow a pencil?" Holmes bestows a large supply of pencils on the "Sorry, we don't have any left" Student Council store.

Jimmy Holmes leaves his habitual clockwatching to Dick "What times does this class get over?" Ames.

Robert "It's a cinch to sneak into lunch line!" Holmes leaves a place at the head of the line to John "I always get caught!" Larson.

Brian White bequeaths his ability to get into trouble with the faculty to Bob "The teachers love me" Majewski.

Jack "I'm the assistant treasurer of our class" Wilbur leaves, taking our money with him.

Shirley Arlin bequeaths her beauty clay from the Senior Play to the "Now we'll be as pretty as the Seniors" Junior girls.

Lee Hooper leaves his love for fast driving over bumpy roads to Alan Coolidge, whose car would never make it.

Eddie Jeffrey leaves his little black book to Dean Coe who deserves it.

Marilyn Johnson leaves her habit of chewing gum quietly to Paula "Snap, snap!" Farrell.

Dave Lindberg bestows his unquenchable thirst for trouble on Alan Hatstat whose throat is so parched that he doesn't really need it.

Pat Fiske leaves those short rides to school to all the kids from Sterling who would appreciate them on cold mornings.

Ronnie Jatrinski bequeaths his Saturday nights with the boys to Bob "I go out with girls on Saturday" Hughes.

Phyllis Johnson leaves her drives with the girls, and those 50 or 60 used up miles, to Betty Hubbard who loves to drive.

Kenny Johnstone leaves his speeches over the P. A. to Janet Lofgren who is endowed with the gift of gab.

Dottie Kowalczyk bequeaths her hall monitor post to anyone who wants to be a policeman.

Kathy Kristoff leaves her brains to the biology classes for observation.

John Lindquist leaves his fame for having the longest side burns in school to Dougie "I'll beat him yet" Forsberg.

Paul Morris leaves his rock 'n roll records to the Audio-Visual Department.

Pearl Crawford leaves, taking everything she has with her.

Richard Dalton bestows his quiet manner on Linda "I'm not being noisy!" Wall.

John Carlson leaves with a big grin.

Diane Cooke leaves "Cookie" to Joyce and all the other cooks in school.

Kathy Gowell leaves her ready smile and laughter to Marsha Forrester who has borrowed them so much she has forgotten to whom they belong.

Barbara Greene leaves her Dartmouth week-end to any underclassman fortunate enough to be invited.

Josephine Haney leaves her platinum-plated pogo stick to Ronnie Janowski for his frequent visits to the nurse.

Judy Main bequeaths her domestic abilities to Charlie Bolster who hasn't dared take Home Ec. since his junior high school days.

Diane O'Brian leaves the school to anyone who wants it. Anyone interested?

Richard Peeso leaves his sparkling smile to those who experience weeping and gnashing of teeth when reports come out.

Robert Peeso bequeaths his comb to all of next year's needy gym classes.

Jean Nordquist leaves her "I'll do the words tomorrow" to Lynn "But I meant to do it" Pelletier who never does her homework.

Eddie Parody leaves his plaid shoes to Diane Ericson to go with her plaid bermuda skirt.

Bob Poole kindly bestows his charcaal drawings to the lobby bulletin board.

Philip Rand leaves one foot of height to James Berube who certainly needs it.

Connie Ruchala leaves her psychological arguments to the files of the psychology classes for analysis.

Jane Sjoman leaves a sell worn copy of War and Peace to anyone who thinks they can read it.

John Spencer leaves his ability to sleep through homeroom periods regardless of the commotion around him to Allison LeMaire who says he stays up late studying.

Judy Derosiers leaves her love of horses to John Waskiewicz who runs every time he sees one.

Carol Prue leaves a bottle of aspirin to the nurse, who has run out.

Linda Lampher leaves her ability to be quiet in classes to Jim "Who, me?" Reidy.

The class of 1958 bequeaths to the underclassmen a measure of its gratitude for having been given the opportunity to attend this school, and leaves a large portion of thanks to the administration and faculty for helping it to make those opportunities profitable.

In witness thereof,

Diann Coyle

Prophecy of the Class of 1958

This is a special report on the first undersea city, Subaquia, which has been founded to relieve the over population on earth, and for some reason a large part of the over population is made up of students of the class of '58 of W. R. H. S. Our trip was sponsored by Aunt Margaret's Homemade Fudge, now in three delicious flavors—vanilla, chocolate and arsenic. Its president and founder, Margaret O'Day, one of our leading class members, felt that those not privileged to belong to our class ought to have a chance to learn of the strange and wonderful things which we have done in order that they, in their turn, may try to follow our splendid example.

We descended in one of the new submarine buses, the Zombi, which was invented by Weston Miller. Its captain, Paul Christensen, had little to do, however, since the bus was piloted by one of Dick Darby's latest inventions, the Eel-eye ray. This was developed by information given to Dick by Helen Sjoberg and Sandra Erickson, a couple of eel experts. Captain Christensen and most of the passengers were occupied in reading Gail Phillips' and Sue Graham's latest mystery thriller, Murder in the Cathedral or Death Comes For the Archbishop. Jean Backstrom and Ann Boisvert were not reading it, but were busy discussing plans for their new restaurant. Colonels Lillian Haskins and Marilyn Main of the Women's Undersea Navy were trying to decide on duty periods for the Waves who would direct traffic. Since, according to the specifications set up by Joyce Blair's extensive studies on people, the inhabitants were assumed to be the most nearly ideal, it was felt—by a few idealists, anyway—that there would be no crime.

We soon arrived at Subaquia, and after passing through a series of pressurized chambers, we entered the great dome which encloses the city. The amazingly strong structure of the dome, incidently, was developed by two of Mr. Daniel's physics students, David Lantz and Francis Zecco who were really trying to turn out a new type of building block for children in high school.

When we stepped out on the landing platform we found no one to meet us although George Swenson did stop long enough to borrow a pencil so that he could finish his new book, 1001 Easy Ways to Borrow Pencils. While we were admiring the city which Henry Hiller had laid out in a circular square, Jay Nystrom came to pick up equipment for his fish farm. Since we had no guide, we began our tour with inspections of his farm, and Dick Holt's vegetable farm. Dick, of course, used only the special seeds which biologist Robert Carey had developed for Norman Jones' Whoopee-Gro Seed Co.

As we were walking toward the center of the city, we saw Bill Kaminski staring dejectedly at the great dome, which keeps the sea from flooding the city. We found that he had come equipped with the best of tackle, hoping to get in a lot of deep sea fishing, and had just realized that the fish were outside and he was inside.

Looking for more cheerful company we found Rosanna Valentino who invited us to the grand opening of her skating rink empire. While we were watching Ralph Anderson and his giraffe Rudolf do their figure skating act, we noticed Barbara Slongwhite, Nancy Lyman, and Sandra Morey trying to control a group of noisy, ill-mannered, typical high school students. The rapidly aging two explained that Ray Jasen, the principal of the high school, had forced the teachers to draw lots to determine who would take the students on a tour and they had lost.

Once more searching for a smiling face, we found John Brown at his garage, John Brown's Body Shop, gloating over his first customer, Ted Migdelany, with his Midgmobile, which had been damaged when the eminent undersea explorer accidently broke through the dome into the sea. We learned that Betty Robbins would receive a medal for her heroic actions after the catastrophe. For when Betty saw water pouring in through the hole in the dome, she directed bystanders to wedge the Midgmobile back in the hole it had made. Unfortunately the Midgmobile also was full of holes from the beating it had received and Ted, who was still inside, nearly drowned before he was rescued. When we went to the infirmary to check on Ted, Linda Benson, the head nurse, explained that his only injury besides water damage was a bruised finger which he had received when his excited rescuers slammed the hatch of the Midgmobile on it.

Since there was nothing exciting going on at the infirmary we soon left, although we stopped long enough in the lobby to admire Joyce Buxton's murals of happy hospital life. Once outside we stopped at Helen Blondin's record store where there was a large display of Lois Parker's and Kathy Bellrose's instruction records for drum majorettes. Their covers were done in a striking pattern of bruises and sprained fingers, by a well known artist, Sandra Sorblom. We would have gone on, but we wanted to see why there was such a large crowd inside the store. When we went in, we found that Leslie LaCount, the new teenage singing idol, was there in person with no one to guard him from his fans except Paul Hague, his publicity agent.

When John G. Carlson came roaring down the street in his latest jalopy—"A Ford, of course"—we dodged into the nearest doorway and found ourselves in the central headquarters. First we visited Charles Belanger's domain where he and Clifford Maki controlled the weather. The temperature and humidity were maintained at the level which John Grandin's and Jerald Hubbard's famous study revealed as the most healthful. As you may recall, this study received its fame when their secretaries, Gail McGuire and Helen Thibeault, revealed at a Congressional investigation that the two scientists had spent five minutes of the first day of the three billion dollar, five year program choosing the figures by drawing numbers out of a hat, and then had spent the rest of the time playing pinochle with two members of their security guard, namely Edward Manly and Alan Gormly. Another guard, Bill Burrows, spent his time hunting, while the fourth guard, Robert Holopainen, had made a small fortune raising vegetables and selling them to other workers in the project. Rhoda Rabinow and Faith Wheeler, assistants at the weather station were reluctant to let us in at first. They told us later that they had to be extra particular because one day an anarchist barricaded himself inside and, in his attempts to single-handedly overthrow the Subaquian Government, had subjected the people to alternate thunder storms and blizzards before he was ejected.

At other offices we spoke to Judy Tuukannen and Pat Redfield, who are responsible for the propaganda which has given Subaquia its wide reputation, and to Diane Byron and Barbara Hutchins who are in charge of the welcoming committee. There we found that they hadn't met us when we arrived because they, along with approximately 7/8 of the rest of the female population, were at the opening sale of Ruth Smith's Chic Dress Shoppe. In fact, Carol Boisvert and Joanne Kemp, tellers at the local branch of Dick Rusden's bank, the Undersea National Trust Association, told us that so far Ruth had deposited a quarter of the total amount of money in Subaquia in her bank account.

Throughout our visit we never lost the curious feeling that we were being watched. The fish outside the dome were so amused by the strange antics of the humans inside that they peered in constantly. Indeed, some even died of starvation because they were reluctant to give up their front row seats and perhaps miss something. We left hastily, eager to leave the interested fish behind us and also eager to bring this report to you.

As is customary with a Senior Class "the play's the thing!" Under the superb direction of its faculty advisors, Mr. Barker and Mr. Bowes, the Senior Class was very successful with the presentation of "We Shook the Family Tree." The rollicking comedy gave our potential actors and actresses a chance to display their ability before a very appreciative audience.

Christmas Play

As is traditional, the Dramatics Club again presented its annual Christmas Play, which was superbly directed and produced by Mr. Robert Barker. The play, "Why the Chimes Rang," has been a favorite of everyone for many years.

The Echo is the quarterly-published newspaper at Wachusett which gives its staff members an opportunity to learn how a publication is written, assembled, and financed. Editor Jean Calcia and her thirty-six co-workers help keep the students up-to-date on social activities, athletics, and other school programs. The various sections of the Echo have a great appeal to both teachers and students at Wachusett. The staff is advised by Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Sampson, Mr. Ryan, Mr. Carey, Mr. Barker, Mr. Theriault, and Mr. Bowes.

Gaw. Fifth Row, left to right: S. Smith, P. Toylor, D. Bigelow, C. Carney, J. Bigelow, C. Dufur.

The Photography Club plays a large role in taking pictures of school functions, both social and athletic. The members of this club learn the correct use of cameras and developing equipment under the direction of Mr. Houmere and Mr. Barrington, and they have put this knowledge to good use, as shown by the number of fine reproductions they have turned out. These results have been posted periodically on the various bulletin boards throughout the school.

The officers of this organization are President, Peter Bice; Vice-President, Gail Prentice; Treasurer, Bonnie Bigelow; and Secretary, Patricia Redfield.

Chemistry Club

This organization is made up of enthusiastic students whose interests lie in the scientific fields. The group had various speakers who gave the members new ideas on scientific professions; other interesting highlights were movies, field trips, chemistry assembly, and work on special experiments.

The club officers are Catherine Kristoff, president; William Cobb, vice-president; Iris Madirosian, secretary; Marsha Lantinen, treasurer; Ann Newell, reporter; Gordon MacPhee, librarian. The advisor is Mr. Mills.

The officers are Gail Phillips, president; Lois Ruggles, vice-president; Jean Nordquist, secretary; Patricia Wood, treasurer; Shirley Arlin, historian.

Library Club

Front Row, left to right: J. Prescott, P. Naumnik, K. Backstrom, C. Turner, M. Blanchord, V. Lundblod. Second Row, left to right: H. Conley, J. Tuukanen, C. Ruchala, M. Friel, D. Dalton, M. Wilson. Third Row, left to right: W. Lindquist, R. Lund, H. Davis, R. Lindquist, Mrs. Wodleigh.

The members of the Library Club, under the direction of Mrs. Wadleigh, our fine librarian, do a great deal to make our library a room where everyone, students and faculty, may feel at home. They are always willing to lend a helpful hand to persons needing books and references, and have added a great deal to the educational facilities of our fine school library.

Ski Club

The Ski Club was newly formed this year under the direction of Mrs. Smith, Mr. Houmere, and Mr. Bombard. Ski trips are among the activities planned by this club.

Varsity Football

With the opening of school in September, many of the boys' interests turned to football. A squad of 45 boys was practicing daily under the direction of Coach Arnold Pinto and his new assistant Mr. William Griffin.

The Mountaineers began the season against Westboro in an abbreviated contest at the annual Worcester County jamboree at Whitinsville. Wachusett drove to within 8 inches of a touchdown before they were halted by the halftime whistle. The teams battled evenly the rest of the way and the contest ended in a scoreless tie.

Wachusett opened the regular season at home against Worcester Classical High on Sept. 28. Wachusett scored twice in the second period and once in the third period and held on to win 20-14. Touchdowns were scored by Jerry Brodeur and Bruce Kingdon.

The next week the Mountaineers entertained the powerful Gardner Wildcats at home. The Wachusett offense could never get rolling, and Gardner scored twice in the second period and once in the third period and won 20-0 in a hard fought contest.

In the third game of the season Wachusett traveled to Assumption Prep. Most of the game was a closely fought see-saw battle. Assumption scored the only touchdown in the second period on a short plunge through the line and triumphed 7-0.

On the next Saturday the team traveled to Auburn. After a scoreless first half the Mountaineers led by the fine quarterbacking of Roger Lindfors and running of John Waskiewicz and Bruce Kingdon, scored 26 points and won easily 26-6. The hard hitting line led by Jim Cunningham, Ward Henson, and John Larson contained Auburn's offensive thrusts and opened wide holes for the Mountaineers' backs.

On the second Saturday in a row, Wachusett was again on the road, this time to Tantasqua Regional in Sturbridge. The game was called at the end of 2 periods because of the heavy rain and muddy field with Wachusett leading 26-0.

In the sixth game of the season Wachusett moved home and played a good St. Bernard's team from Fitchburg. Wachusett led at the half 9-0 on a touchdown by Jerry Brodeur and a safety caused by the fine defensive work of Ron Schofield. In the second half Wachusett power took over and two touchdowns were scored by Roger Lindfors and Bruce Kingdon. Ron Schofield kicked 3 extra points and Wachusett won 23-0.

The last home game was played against a strong, fast Mary E. Wells team from Southbridge. Wells was undefeated and Wachusett found no disgrace in losing 26-6.

The next week, Wachusett traveled to Shrewsbury to play the Colonials in a game that was previously postponed. Shrewsbury was really up for the game and they won the hard-fought contest, 19-13, with a touchdown in the last 50 seconds.

Letter winners were, seniors: Co-captains Roger Lindfors, Jim Cunningham and Bruce Kingdon. Also, Bob Barr, Jerry Brodeur, Ward Henson, Dick Labossiere, Bill Lane, Ken Johnstone, Bill Kaminski, Ron Schofield. Juniors: Bill Zinno, John Larson, and Wayne Wagner. Sophomores: John Waskiewicz and Dave Hammond. Managers: Chuck Belanger and Ron Granberg.

The school spirit at all the games was a tremendous improvement over the previous year. Many thanks should go to the cheerleaders and the student body.

Girl's Varsity Field Hockey

Several weeks after the beginning of school in September 1957 the girls' field hockey practices began. The turn-out was excellent and following a few weeks of "getting into shape" exercises a varsity squad, consisting of 22 members, was selected. The 12 senior members of this 1957 Field Hockey Squad were Diann Coyle, Judy Gibson, Joyce Larson, Carol Majewski (co-captain), Mary Martelli, Dot Mayo (Co-captain), Gail Phillips, Lois Ruggles, Kathy Simonds, Elaine Wall, Dianne Webster, and Faith Wheeler; the juniors were Elaine Adams, Sue Anderson, Gerry Connor, Judy Decker, Linda Field, Margie Hodgson, Janice Holmes, Cecile Hyland, Betty Steele; and one sophomore, Lynn Pelletier.

The Wachusett Field Hockey season officially got underway on September 19 when the team played their first game against Milbury at home. The Wachusett girls marched on to a 3-0 victory over their opponents.

The next week, the Wachusett girls faced Shrewsbury at home where they fought rewardingly to a 2-1 decision for Wachusett. This proved to be one of Wachusett's toughest opponents.

On October 2 the team served as host to Leominster and the game ended in a 4-0 victory for Wachusett.

October 10 saw the team face to face with the Gardner team on home grounds. The game proved another victory for Wachusett.

Four days later the girls traveled to Northbridge where they defeated an inexperienced team in a 7-0 score.

That same week they again were lined up on the Shrewsbury field for a 1-0 decision for our girls.

On October 22, the team played its toughest game of the season at Gardner. Both teams battled to a 1-1 tie score.

The last game of the season saw Milbury here at Wachusett which proved to be another victory for the home team with the score 1-0.

We are proud to say that the Wachusett Varsity team has made an undefeated record of 7 victories and 1 tied game.

The J. V.'s also had a very successful season with 6 victories, one tied game, and one loss.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank both coaches, Mrs. Moulton and Miss Costa, for their much needed help this season and also our thanks to our faithful managers, Nancy Lyman and Dianne Forrester.

We hope that next year's season will also prove to be as successful as ours has been—Best of luck, kids!

Boy's Basketball

During the 1957-58 season, the Mountaineers compiled one of the best records ever made by a Wachusett basketball squad. The team captured the Central Worcester County League Championship with a 5 and 1 record, and posted an overall record of 13 wins and 6 losses.

Led by captain Bruce Kingdon, the team defeated Auburn, Shrewsbury, Spencer, and Clinton twice, and split with Northbridge and Webster. In single contests, the Mountaineers defeated Commerce High of Worcester, and lost to Fitchburg High and Assumption Prep of Worcester. The team participated in the Clark University Tournament after the regular season. They defeated Millbury and lost to Spencer, the eventual champions, and to Northbridge in a game which went into overtime.

The senior members of the team were: Joe Kapulka, Hank Hiller, Gerry Brodeur, Paul Flanagan, and captain Bruce Kingdon.

Girl's Basketball

Early in December the girls' basketball practices began. After a few weeks of rugged practice the varsity squad was chosen as follows: Joyce Larson and Carol Majewski, co-captains; Linda Benson, Diann Coyle, Judy Gibson, Gail Price, Elaine Wall, Gerry Connor, Judy Decker, Betty Fogg, Margie Hodgson, Betty Hubbard, Cecile Hyland, Faith Travis, Martha Otto, and Ginny Brennan.

This year, as last, the girls finished the season undefeated. Joyce Larson had a total of 155 points in nine games, an average of 17.2 points per game.

Our thanks to both Mrs. Moulton and Miss Costa for their excellent coaching, and also to the managers, Nancy Lyman and Dianne Webster, for all their help this season.

Intramural Clubs

The Girl's Intramural Club is open to any girl interested in athletic activities. The members of this active and worthwhile group are divided into cell groups each electing a captain. Each cell group has its turn planning a meeting and taking care of the gym bulletin board. Sports sponsored by this club include basketball, badminton, and volleyball.

The members of the Boy's Intramural Club take charge of the entire Intramural Sports Program for boys at Wachusett. They do the planning, make all the arrangements, and then do all the hard work, for such programs as: horseshoes, basketball, touch football, volleyball, and softball. Trophies or plaques are given to the winning team in each section, and are placed in the trophy cabinet for all to observe. This group of hard working young men has made it possible for every boy in the school to take part in the sport of his choice.

Boys' and Girls' Varsity Clubs

The boys' and girls' Varsity Clubs, working together, this year took complete charge of the refreshments, check room, and dances at the boys' basketball games. The clubs also sponsored the first annual alumni basketball game ever to be held at Wachusett. Both the boys' and girls' varsity teams were pitted against strong opponents, but neither alumni team could stand up under the rapid pace, and finally went down in defeat. The girls' club, led by Carol Majewski, president; Joyce Larson, vice president; Gail Price, secretary; and Betty Hubbard, treasurer; consisted of fourteen girls, all of whom did their best to uphold the ideals set forth in their code. The boys' club also did a great deal to improve the athletic situation at Wachusett. Their officers were: Bruce Kingdon, president; Jim Cunningham, vice president; Gerry Brodeur, treasurer; and Bill Zinno, secretary.

In Appreciation

We, the editors of the Wachusett '58, would like to thank our outstanding staff for the many hours and the hard work that they contributed in making the yearbook. In particular, we would like to say a very special "thank you" to the following people for the extra time and effort they kindly gave to make this book possible:

MRS. FRANCES C. CREAMER, officially business advisor, but who helped all of us through the many difficult times with her infinite patience and understanding.

MR. RALPH J. WADSWORTH, whose hard work and perseverence made the writing and proof-reading of the copy so much easier.

MR. GREGORY F. BOWES, for his guidance and suggestions to the art staff, making the continuity of our book possible.

MR. JOHN BUSHONG, Bushong Studios, Worcester, for making an interesting and amusing job of picture-taking, which otherwise would have been very tedious.

GAIL PRENTICE, our Art Editor, whose clever ideas, hard work, and creative handling of the art staff have been an invaluable asset.

ALAN GORMLY, CATHY KRISTOFF, and the rest of the business managers who outdid themselves in bringing in ads and boosters.

We hope that you will always cherish this yearbook, and in the future when you read it, it will remind you of your four successful years at Wachusett.
